RAN AWAY from the subscriber on Sunday the 4th inst. a negro man named ROBERT, who is generally called BOB. He is a low chunky fellow, about 5 feet 1 or 2 inches high. He is square and well made, is pitted with the small pox, and is about 23 years of age. His cloathing cannot be described.—He is remarkably fond of being about shipping; and will endeavor, in all probability, to pass for a sailor and get on board some vessel. All masters, as well as others, are therefore cautioned not to harbor or take off said negro; as any person so transgressing shall be dealt with according to law.

RAN AWAY on the 22d of last month, from the subscriber's plantation near Alexandria, a negro man named TOM, about 30 years old, five feet 9 or 10 inches high, likely and well made, very black complexion, long visage, his teeth very white and even; a remarkably small hand and foot. He is in some measure accustomed to the carpenter's business, but has lately worked in the field. His cloathing cannot be particularly described, as he took a variety with him. He is much addicted to drink, and apt to be quarrelsome and abusive when in liquor. The above reward will be given for him, if taken out of the state and delivered at the subscriber's plantation, or in the gaol of Alexandria, where he may get him again—or twenty dollars if taken within the state, and not more than twenty miles from Alexandria; and delivered as aforesaid; and a higher reward in proportion to the distance above 20 miles from Alexandria, until it may reach the sum of 50 dollars above mentioned, and all reasonable charges.

The Columbian Mirror
AND ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

NEW-YORK, AUGUST 5.

By the ships Boyne and Chesapeake, arrived here on Saturday from London, we have papers of that city to the 10th of June.

The news which these papers contain, is said to have been contradicted before the above ships sailed—this is not to be wondered at, when we recollect that they have in England, papers devoted to the cause of France.

The ports of Holland are blockaded by the English, and neutrals are not permitted to enter; but are taken and sent into English ports, and it is said most of them will be condemned. Several American vessels had been sent in.

There was a grand expedition in forwardness; generally supposed to be destined against Holland.

The successes of the Austria-Russian army, has diffused general joy throughout England; their public Stock is higher than it has been for several years; and the arts and sciences begin to assume a renovated vigor.

A peace is spoken of by France; but Mr. Pitt openly discountenances the idea of treating with them, till they shall have fixed upon some form of government. After having been beaten in every quarter; after disappointments in raising troops for their armies; and after the frustration of their last naval expedition, they cry Peace! Peace! But, little more purging, will probably make them more sincere in their desire for an event so much without for; when it can be effected on safe and honorable terms, then their enemies will treat with them, and, it is to be hoped, not till then.

From the Hamburgh Mail.

MILAN, MAY 14.

The following letter of Field Marshall Suwarrow has been published here:

"On the 13th inst. at 5 o'clock in the morning, the French were attacked by the imperial and Russian army, in their strong position between Turin and Coni. The battle was the most bloody, and lasted till night. It will be one of the most remarkable in History, and terminated at last in our favor. The French have left 8,000 men slain on the field; 6,000 prisoners are already in our possession. We had 3,000 men killed or wounded. The French have lost almost all their artillery; four of the enemy's Generals are taken prisoners, among whom is the commander in Chief, Moreau."

By this battle the fate of Italy is decided, and the Allies are stationed on the frontiers of France.

VERONA, MAY 15.

The following intelligence has appeared in print, at Modena:

"The Regency make it a duty, and feels the greatest joy in publishing the letter just written by Baron Alpres, Colonel, commanding the army of his Imperial and Apostolic Majesty.

"To the Regency of the city of Modena."

"Gentlemen, please to publish immediately, that the English, Russian and Ottoman fleets have made a descent at Genoa, and seized both that city and its harbor; that the French have evacuated Alessandria and Turin, and that Peschiera has been taken. I am eager to communicate this to you, for the satisfaction of honest people, who interest themselves in the welfare of humanity.

Reggio, May 9, 1799.

(Signed) Baron D'Alpres"

LINDAU, MAY 21.

Yesterday morning at one o'clock, the French left the whole valley of the Rhine, and retreated behind St Gallen. To morrow the bridges will be got ready, and the whole corps between Bregentz and Feldkirch will pass the Rhine, in three columns in order to join Gen. Hotze, who has penetrated to Toggenburg.

LONDON, JUNE 8.

It was last night reported, and understood to be confirmed in the house of commons, that by intelligence from St. Vincent, the Brest fleet was blocked up in Toulon.

We cannot withhold our congratulation on the happy and prosperous state of public affairs. In the seventh year of the war—a war unexampled in the history of mankind—Mr. Pitt comes forward to provide for THIRTY MILLIONS of expenditure for the current year, without oppossing the poor, or checking the spirit and enterprize of trade or commerce. The following are the new modifications or taxes; and we request our readers to turn particular attention to the account of the proceedings last night in the house of commons, which is uncommonly interesting.

JUNE 9.

The Hamburg mail of the 31st arrived in town last night by express, and has brought the important intelligence of the TOTAL DEFEAT of the FRENCH ARMIES in Italy, the junction of the Imperial armies in Switzerland, &c.

After a battle which lasted 12 hours, Moreau severely wounded, with three of his generals, and 6000 men who have been made prisoners by the Russians, who left 8000 of the enemy dead on the field of battle.

A letter from Milan, of the 15th states this action to have decided the fate of Italy. The Russians on the 14th took Valenza, by assault.—Alessandria, as well as Turin, is now in possession; and the Piedmontese peasants have occupied mount Cenis, and thereby cut off the remnant of Moreau's army from France.

DEFEAT of MACDONALD's ARMY.

A letter from Berlin, of the 28th ult. states, that a messenger had that day arrived from Italy, with advice that the corps of General Macdonald, which had advanced through Tuscany for the purpose of joining the army of Moreau, had been attacked by the Austro-Russian army, near Lucca, and totally defeated; and their commander made prisoner.

Passage of the Rhine by the Austrians.

On the 22d the whole of the Imperial troops stationed at Bregentz country crossed the Rhine between Bregentz and Feldkirch, in three columns, and after some ineffectual opposition from the French between Winterthur and Zurich, penetrated into the canton of Uri, where they were joined by several armed peasants—thus forming an uninterrupted communication between the armies of the archduke and general Suwarrow.

The corps of general Nauendorf crossed the Rhine at five o'clock on the morning of the 21st, and immediately advanced his head quarters to Singen. The enemy had previously abandoned Constance, and the entire of the southern bank of the Rhine, and retired with precipitation towards Zurich. On the morning of the 23d, the archduke, with the remainder of his army, was to cross the Rhine at Stein and Schaffhausen, and immediately to pursue the enemy.

The whole of the cantons of Schaffhausen, Appenzle, Uri and Schwitz, are now in possession of the Austrians. The position of Massena at Zurich, is therefore, not tenable, and his retreat is opposed by the most formidable difficulties. The next mail will, we trust, bring advice of his having shared the fate of Serurrier and Moreau.

The capture of Genoa by the English, Turks and Russians, has been officially announced by col. baron d'Aspres, commander of the Imperial advanced post at Reggio, to the regency of Modena. The report of general Angereau being made prisoner with his corps, in endeavoring to succour the place is not confirmed.

JUNE 10.

Our Plymouth letters by yesterday's mail state, that on the 24th ult. two ships of the line sailed from Brest; that on the 31st two sail of the line lay in the Outer Road, and that another ship of the same description was towing out by numerous boats to join them, as was alledged, to proceed to Ireland. This intelligence was brought to Plymouth by two fishermen, who, as pilots went on board the French frigates which appeared in Bantry Bay, in December, 1796, supposing her to be English, and who having been considered as prisoners of war, were lately exchanged, and brought to England, on Friday last, in a cartel from Morlaix.

Expresses were yesterday sent off from the admiralty to all the principal sea-ports, for what purpose we have not been able accurately to ascertain. Conjecture says, that an embargo is the object, either to prevent the outward bound merchantmen from falling in with the French squadron, which is stated to have lately sailed from Brest, or to guard against any intelligence, respecting the secret expedition about to take place, reaching the enemy's shores.

No advices from the Mediterranean have yet been received by government; the reports of lord St. Vincent having blocked up the enemy's fleet in Toulon, are therefore totally void of official foundation.

A letter from Plymouth, dated the 7th inst says "a sloop cartel from Morlaix, which she left yesterday morning, brings advice that the public mind is in the greatest state of agitation; multitudes crying out against the government, and their partizans only able to avert the threatened convulsion by entreaties to wait the operations of the fleet, which appears the last stake of the executive directory.—The recent conscription is most rigorously enforced, and sea faring men are daily marked hamstrung and thumb locked to the ports."

The king of Sweden, in quality of duke of Pomerania, has, by his minister, baron Bildt, delivered to the congress of Rastadt a note, informing the co-estates, that he has joined the coalition against France, and will furnish his contingent of men in natura. He exhorts the members of the empire to follow his example, in rendering every possible succor to the emperor, as the only means of preserving the Germanic constitution.—A great naval armament is preparing at Carlscrone.

The garrison of Mantua is stated to have made propolals of capitulation to general Kray, who had refused to accede to some articles respecting covered waggons.

The fortress of Urbano, in the Belonese, surrendered on the 10th; and on the 12th the Austrians entered Bologna, where they made 1200 prisoners.

General Vukassovich has taken in Piedmont upwards of 250 pieces of cannon.

Moleati, Buonaparte's physician, and one of the Cisalpine directors, has been sent prisoner to Milan.

The Spanish minister to the Cisalpine republic has been ordered to leave Milan.

Letters from the Hague of the 25th ult. state, that in the course of the present month half of the new raised national guards, consisting of 25,000 men, would be organized, when the troops of the line would be employed in the French service.

The French have wholly evacuated Rome, in the neighborhood of which a formidable insurrection had broken out.

The treasures plundered from Rome, Naples and Tuscany, by the French, are stated to have fallen into the hands of the Austrians at Parma.

The landgrave of Hesse is forming a corps of 8000 men on his frontiers.

An article from Bombay, March 21, inserted in the Paris papers, states the probability of an immediate war between the British and Tippoo; who they say, has 100,000 well disciplined troops, and does not give himself the trouble to conceal his designs. He lately observed, in answer to some new remonstrances made to him by the company, that he knew what was due to his dignity and army. Every thing announces an approaching rupture. The Paris papers speak as if the Brest fleet were going to relieve Buonaparte, and enable him to proceed to India.

MAY 15.

In the battle on the 13th, a great deal of French baggage also fell into the hands of the Allies. Moreau, who was at first reported to have effected his retreat, is said to be wounded. Field marshal Suwarrow is said to have demanded the deliverance of the Pope, under heavy menace of the province of Dauphine.

LETTER EXTRAORDINARY.

To the French Directory, on their last overthrow in Italy.

13th Prairial.

"Citizens Directors!

"I write this from the field of slaughter!—The destinies have dealt some stubborn blows on all around! If the enemy have not been made to bite the dust, the fault is none of mine!—We have had more than common powers to contend with!—The treachery of Britain has found means to combine some of our own elements against us!—The snow, at the foot of the Alps, though frozen fifteen feet in solidity, at my command, basely yielded to the pickaxes of the Russian pioneers; and the Thur and the Po halted in their course, to give the enemy false passage!—I denounced the wayward elements, as no longer obedient to the will of the Great Nation!

Health and Fraternity!

(Signed) MOREAU."

LEXINGTON, (KEN.) JULY 4.

By a gentleman just arrived in town from the Red Banks, we are informed that a man by the name of Duff, had been permitted by the Indians to make salt at a salt lick on Saline creek, and who had been removed from that place by order of the commandant at Massac, was killed on the 4th ult. by the Indians, at his own house on the west bank of the Ohio, about 45 miles below the Red Banks.

Our readers will recollect some recent accounts which appeared in our paper under the Cincinnati head, respecting a war with the Indians—We are happy in laying the following before our readers which we extract from the Western Spy, printed at Cincinnati;

"From a strict enquiry we are happy to inform our readers these accounts are absolutely false—Accounts from Fort Wayne say, that the Indians are as peaceable and as friendly as usual—we have seen a number of gentlemen who lived on the frontiers, and some Indian traders, who gave the same information; and capt. Hamilton, who it was said was warned to move from the other side of the Miami by the Indians, and to warn all the settlers on that side to move off, has we are credibly informed, positively denied it—and the public may rest assured, that there is not at present the least probability of the Indians being hostilely disposed towards us—and these reports have been fabricated by those who are anxious for an Indian war, thinking by the spoils thereof to replenish their exhausted finances, heedless of the calamities it would bring upon us; would strain every nerve to accomplish it.—People would do well not to give credit to reports of this kind unless they wore some kind of probability."

BALTIMORE, AUGUST 8.

We yesterday published, as we received, the accounts of the disasters of the French armies; but on reflection, are of opinion that they are fabrications. The intelligence received by way of Norfolk, and which we published in Monday's Gazette, is a strong contradiction. Those advices were two days later from London, and from Turin to the 24th May, at which time Moreau's head quarters were at Coni. On the 15th May (2 days after the date of Suwarrow's forged letter) an affair of posts only took place in the neighbourhood of Alessandria between which time and the 29th April no general action had taken place, nor indeed, even up to the 24th May. We did our duty in expeditiously detailing the intelligence as it came to hand, but we think it likewise necessary to lay before such of our readers as has not time to make their own observations the ground on which it rests.

PHILADELPHIA, AUGUST 6.

A letter received by the schooner Lisbon, arrived at the fort, in 36 days from Lisbon, mentions that three Spanish sail have been taken by the British and carried into Gibraltar.

Letters from London, received in this city by the Chesapeake, mention the overthrow of the French armies.

A letter received in town of the 17th of June, from Lisbon, brought by the schooner Lisbon, captain Cox, which states: "That the French fleet were still in Toulon, blockaded by lord St. Vincent with 22 sail of the line—that the Spanish fleet had put into Carthagena, in a most deplorable situation, said to have been from the express determination not to join the French fleet." No mention was made of 3 sail of the line reported to have been sent into Gibraltar by the English. Accounts had also been received at Lisbon of the restoration of the king of Naples to his kingdom, and of the total destruction of the French armies in Italy.

Commodore Truxton, it is said, has resigned his command in the navy of the United States. [Gaz. U. S.]

LONDON, JUNE 9.

The king, during the review of the 1st dragoon guards on Wednesday, spoke to the prince of Orange respecting the review of the volunteers on the preceding day in terms of the warmest admiration; he declared it to have been the most gratifying and proudest period of his life, adding, that he trusted in three months, the Stadtholder would have the pleasure of witnessing in his own country similar a spectacle.

If we combine this expression of his majesty with the preparations announced for a foreign military expedition, we may naturally conclude Holand to be its place of destination. Exclusive however, of this, which might have proceeded only from sympathy and that benevolence which ever seeks to lighten the hearts of others, many circumstances have occured to impress us with an opinion that Flanders was the intended theatre of action. Be it where it may, fortified by loyalty, and the justice of their cause, and advantaged by the general sentiment of all civilized society, our soldiers, we doubt not, will rival our tars in fortune as they have ever done in valor.

Intelligence from Constantinople, April 26, relates that recent circumstances impressed more than a belief that French gold had occasioned the late dreadful conflagration. The British minister plenipotentiary. Mr. J. Spencer Smith, had but time to escape with his lady, both of whom were left without a change of clothes.

To the 26th April no official account had been received at Constantinople from Syria subsequent to the 18th of March—Several reports of successes obtained by the allies, and of the return of Buonaparte with the remnant of his army to Egypt were in circulation; but from the general inattention to dates in all Turkish correspondence, nothing certain could be collected from them.

The Standard of 64 guns, convalescent ship at Sheerness, is ordered to Chatham to be paid off, and fitted to carry troops.—This is the fifth vessel of this rate ordered to Chatham for this purpose, and there are several others of the same class preparing in the like manner at Deptford, Woolwich, and the western yards.

The Harlequin packet, appointed to take out the American mail of this month, will be ready for sea on the 14th instant: the Princess Charlotte, with the mails for Barbadoes, Martinique, and Jamaica, is appointed to sail from Falmouth on the 14th.

DECLARATION

Made to the diet of the empire in the name of the king of Sweden, as duke of Pomerania

His majesty having already declared that he considered the congress of peace at Rastadt no longer constitutional, after the renewal of the war, and in consequence thereof he recalled his minister, this congress ought to be considered as dissolved.

No Legation of the states of the empire can remain at Rastadt, without evident breach of that respect which each state owes to the supreme chief of the Germanic body. The present war, in his opinion, ought to be regarded as a war of the empire; indeed it was declared as such at first, and as the congress was convened for the sole purpose of negociating the peace during the armistice, he conceives that things should remain on the same footing.

It is the duty then of each member of the empire to take an active interest in this war, by furnishing his contingent; no state, in his majesty's opinion, can be dispensed from this obligation, except those whose local position and want of means, render it impossible. A contrary opinion seems to him inadmissible and unconstitutional—Our principal obligation is obedience to the chief supreme of the empire, and attachment to the constitution, to ensure the enjoyment of our rights and prerogatives—It may perhaps be alledged, that the interests and well being of some of the states of the empire prescribe to them what is determined a neutrality, but as his majesty has already excepted those sovereigns and countries, which from superious circumstances are prevented from supporting the burdens of the war, he does not see any reason for such conduct in those whose situation excludes the like excuse; and even should the part they would take in the war be attended with difficulties and expence, they have no solid motives which justify a breach of their engagements.

After some other observations his Swedish majesty thus concludes, He that reads in the hearts of men is his judge, and he will assuredly see that no motive of ambition has induced him to take this step, and that his only incitement is the desire of re-establishing union, confidence, and integrity in the Germanic body. He declares then here to his co-estates, that he is ready at this moment to make his contingent march, as duke of Pomerania; and wishes that all the well disposed members of the empire, particularly those who have the power to maintain it effectually, may imitate his example.

STOP THE VILLAIN!

25 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY last night from the subscriber near this City, GEORGE, a stout made mulatto man, 24 or 25 years old, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high with a conspicuous scar under his left jaw, occasioned by a defective tooth, a large scar on the back of his right hand from the cut of a knife, and a small one on the forehead, occasioned by some accident when a child, draws a little when about to speak, a bushy head of hair, legs rather small from the continual use of boots, and generally of sulky looks and temper—he knows a little of the shoemaker's trade, as is, when he pleases, a very complete domestic servant.

As he has several times travelled with me into the northern states, he probably may endeavor to go that way, or towards Kentucky, where his mother and other connexions are. The above reward will be paid on delivering him to me, or lodging him in some secure jail, so that I get him again.

Iron Works for Sale.

THE FURNACE commonly known by the name of KEEP TRYST, with about 1400 acres of LAND; thirty of watered meadow, equal to any in the state—about 200 arable, now in cultivation—and several fields well set in clover—the remainder of the land is in wood, a large proportion covered with heavy timber, and a part with pine, and includes a good MILL SEAT on Shenandoah River, near its mouth. There are also 700 thriving Apple Trees, and a great number of peach, pear, and cherry trees. With the Furnace are all the necessary flasks, patterns, and tools compleat for carrying on the business, coal house, a grist mill lately repaired, a well constructed sawmill near the bank of the river newly built, smith shop, store houses calculated for dry goods and castings, meat house, corn house 35 feet by 18, a barn almost new 70 feet by , seventeen houses for workmen, most of them with stone chimneys and shingled roofs, also a comfortable dwelling house, and a paled garden in a high state of cultivation. The land abounds with springs of excellent water, and has an inexhaustible supply of limestone, and a quarry of good marble. There are also two other conveniences for water works, which may be improved at a small expence, the fall being upwards of 30 feet. An abundant supply of wood may be obtained in the neighbourhood without difficulty, to aid in carrying on the furnace. In point of health and romantic prospect, this place is not exceeded by any on Potomac river, being situated about two miles above Harper's Ferry; and the lands, for a considerable distance, bounded with those now improving for the chief arsenal of the United States. Opposite the Furnace, and for three miles above, is a beautiful sheet of water, on which the ore is transported from the bank to the furnace, which stands within 30 or 40 feet of the river, and so convenient that three hands can deliver thirty tons a day—at the lower termination of this sheet of water, the canal now opening for the above mentioned arsenal will originate. About thirty working horses, with gears, waggons, and farming utensils, and a large stock of horned cattle and hogs, may be also had with the premises, as well as a good stock of ore ready raised, and of cord wood & coal.

ALSO,

A FORGE,

At the Great Falls of Potomac, covered with tin to guard against the effects of fire, and is situated on the canal; it has two hammers and four fires each, with separate wheels and bellows, and is provided with every necessary tool for prosecuting the business. There is also a good coal house, iron house, and smith shop, stables, work, men's houses with cedar roofs and brick or stone chimneys, and a large dwelling house on a high situation, which commands a beautiful view both up and down the river, and of the Falls—There are also two meadows well set with timothy, and one of them watered. The farm contains about 250 acres, and near the house is a good garden and young orchard—there is also the right of cutting coal wood on a very large tract surrounding the forge, and very convenient thereto. The stock of every kind will be sold with the premises, if required. From the furnace there is water transportation to the forge, and from thence to George Town, the Federal City, and Alexandria.

When the prospects of the increasing value of this property is contemplated, it must be an object worthy the attention of any one desirous of engaging in an Iron Business, especially as the metal is considered equal, if not superior to any in the United States, for cannon and most other kinds of castings; and may be waterborne from either of the works to the sea ports.

For terms respecting the first described property, apply to George North, one of the proprietors, who lives on the premises; and for either that or the forge, in Alexandria, to

JOHN POTTS,

Who has a number of BUILDING LOTS in and near the town for sale.
